1. Introduction-

This extension is use of out of stock product. If any product is out of stock you can send mail for subscribe for that particular product . below is the screen shot for how to work with this extension.

2. Installation-

If you're using a custom theme package, you need to copy all the extension template, layout kin files to the corresponding folders of your custom theme package. Take files from the extension package (in the left column), and copy them to the corresponding folder on your Magento website (right column). Please see the list of folders to copy below:

In the extension package	Path in your Magento installation
app/design/frontend/default/default/*	app/design/frontend/[package]/[theme]/

* means that all subfolders and files of extension inside the folder need to be copied over to the custom theme folder

```
<?php if (!$_product->isSaleable()): ?>
    <?php echo $this->getChildHtml('outofstocksubscription') ?>
<?php endif; ?>

Copy the above code and Paste this code inside your package file

[app/design/frontend/\[package\]/\[theme\]/template/catalog/product/view.phtml](#)

after your product detail main form or find this `</form>`

3. Configure Extension-

After installation Go to Admin >> Configuration >> Out of Stock Subscription and set Enable field " yes" .
